The Experience of Mrs. Roy Brown is Well Worth Reading

Peterboro, Ont.—“I was in a miserable state of health, my nerves gave way completely. I could not sleep, had backaches and was completely exhausted—so weak and sleepy and tired that I was compelled to give up and take to my bed. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as nothing I had used helped me. By the time I had taken one bottle I was able to be up and around, I kept on taking it and was completely restored to health. I cannot say enough in praise of the 'Favorite Prescription' for the wonderful help it gave me.”—Mrs. Roy Brown, 222 King St.

Small Town Papers

BY FRANK PARKER STOCKBRIDGE
Reprinted by special permission from Saturday Evening Post. Copyright 1938, by the Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia.

Awards like those, and the others which the association gives annually, are doing a great deal to stimulate country editors to produce better papers. The Brookings Register, in South Dakota, for example, holds the current award for the best front page. That puts the Eastern publishers on their mettle; but it was an Eastern paper, the Graphic, of Newton, Massachusetts, which won first prize in the association's advertising contest, while the News, of Montevideo, Minnesota, took first place as an example of good newspaper production.

These awards are powerful influences for the betterment of the country press, the others agreed, but two or three spoke simultaneously of the schools of journalism as perhaps the most potent factor of all in the progress of the small-town weeklies.

“You didn't think that all this flock of boys and girls who are being graduated every year from the schools of journalism were getting city jobs, did you?” asked Bert Mills, as I expressed surprise. “I don't know just how many there are—somewhere between thirty-five and fifty universities, I believe—which have full-fledged journalism schools. I noticed that Prof. Willard Bleyer, dean of the Wisconsin University school, said the other day that there were more jobs than there are graduates to fill them, and I believe he's right. And many of these schools are concentrating on the problem of the small-town weekly rather than on the daily press. Indiana State, for example, pays almost no attention to daily journalism, but when a boy or girl is graduated there he or she can always find a job on a country weekly. It won't be long now, perhaps in our own time, when the country editor who is not a university graduate will be as rare a bird as the old-time tramp printer is today.”

That turned the talk to the modern counterpart of the tramp printer, the real journeyman, who drifted from town to town and was the main reliance of the old-fashioned country editor. The machine operator—usually a machinist as well as an operator and often an all-round printer as well—has taken his place, they told me. And “he” is often as not a “she.” Gone are the whisky bottle and the corn-cob pipe, the ribald jest and the odoriferous spittoon which made the old-time country newspaper shop so picturesque and glamorous. It is a ladylike boudoir nowadays by comparison. It was a Nebraska linotype operator, on the Cook Courier, who was crowned Queen of the Johnson County Fair last fall! No tramp printer ever achieved anything like that.

“Gentlemen,” I said when we had got that far, “you have been breaking my heart by degrees ever since we foregathered. You have knocked my lifelong illusions into a cocked hat. You have thrown romance into the hellbox, as it were. You have turned what was once a glorious, irresponsible adventure into a sordid, commercial, efficient, prosperous, money-making business. I can survive those revelations, as I have survived the discovery that Santa Claus and the type louse alike are myths. But do not shatter my last remaining link with the romantic memories of rural journalism as I knew it in my youth. Do not, I beg of you, do not tell me that the patent inside is dead!”

My appeal moved them, though not precisely to tears. They hastened to assure me that the patent inside still lives. The patent inside and its younger brother, the boiler plate of beloved memory, are still stand-bys in country newspaper shops. Four or five thousand small-town weeklies still buy their paper stock printed on one side with a variety of news-features, pictures, fiction and the like, calculated to appeal to the rural reader—but with this main difference from the old days: That the editor has the privilege of selecting just what shall be furnished in his ready-print service instead of taking what-ever the haughty magnates, who used to demand their money C.O.D. at the express office, choose to send him, advertisements and all. Or he can buy the same sort of material in boiler plate, column-wide stereotyped strips of type metal, pictures and reading matter, which he can put on his own press and print from. And 20 per cent. or more of country weeklies now have their own stereotyping outfits, purchased or leased, with which they can cast their own plates from paper matrices furnished by advertisers or obtained from syndicates which supply not only editorial features, comics, cartoons, fashion and sport services, among others, but also well-designed advertising drawings and borders to enable the country newspaper to give its local merchants as attractive advertising display as one can find in the city papers.

Such co-operative services make it easier than ever for the ambitious young man to establish a creditable country paper on small capital. Credit for equipment is extremely liberal; the country editor is no longer a financial pariah. Country papers are still started on shoestrings, without a printing plant at all, getting the paper printed in the nearest good-sized town. If the editor-publisher is really in love with his job and is willing to hustle hard for local news and advertising, he has a better chance than ever to establish himself in a prosperous business, Bert Mills and the rest assured me. And the established country weekly today is so valuable and so profitable that B. Franklin Simms would turn over in his grave if he could hear how things have changed.

I guess that novelist is crazy like a fox.

RICH, RED BLOOD A REAL NERVE TONIC

The Source Of All Nervousness Is Weak, Watery Blood

Many people, both men and women, find themselves run down through overwork, or anxieties. Such sufferers find themselves tired, low-spirited and depressed. Their nerves seem to be worn out and they suffer from headaches and other nerve pains. All this comes from starved nerves.

Doctoring the nerves with poisonous sedatives is a terrible mistake. The only real nerve tonic is a good supply of rich red blood. Therefore to relieve nervousness and run-down health Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be taken. These pills enrich the blood, which tones the nerves, improves the appetite, gives new strength and spirits and makes hitherto despondent people bright and cheerful. Miss Irene Denne, R.R. No. 1, Washago, Ont., tells what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her as follows:—“I suffered for a long time with my nerves and a generally run-down condition. I grew so weak that I had to lie in bed a part of every day. I could not do any work and was taking medicine all the time, trying one medicine after another. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I have reason to be thankful that I acted on this advice, as this was the first medicine that gave me any relief, and in a comparatively short time restored me to the blessing of good health. When I think of the marvellous good these pills did me, I can most highly recommend them to all weak, nervous people.”

If you are at all run-down, or weak, you should begin at once to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you will soon be well and strong. These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

To Improve Cattle Industry

Some 32 municipalities in Saskatchewan are in process of eliminating all grade sires and establishing themselves as purebred sire areas under the Act in force in this province. It has been estimated that if all the calves in Saskatchewan were sired by good purebred bulls it would add $15,000,000 to the value of the cattle in the province.

The “Flu” LEFT HER WITH A VERY WEAK HEART

Mrs. Benlah Demone, Pleasant River, N.S., writes:—“Having suffered with the ‘flu’ a few years ago, I was left with a very weak heart.”

“I was unable to go about, and could not do my housework.”

“I would get dizzy spells and would have to go and lie down.”

“I could not sleep at night as the least little noise would wake me up.”

“I tried different kinds of medicine, but they seemed to do me no good.”

“A friend recommended

I have used five boxes and am much better; do not get those dizzy spells, and can do my own work as well as ever.”

Devotional Reading: Psalm 119:1-8.

Explanations and Comments

The Captious Question In Regard To Tribute, verses 13-17. The Herodians were a small political party who were partisans of Herod. A few of the Pharisees sympathized with the Herodians, but most Pharisees hated them as cordially as they did the Sadducees, yet they united with Herodians and Sadducees in a plot to snare Jesus. The men whom they sent to Jesus prefaced their remarks by saying that the question they were about to propound was a dangerous one to answer, but they knew that He was not afraid of consequences: “Thou regardest not the person of men, but of a truth teachest the way of God,” they said. Thus would they flatter Him and put Him off His guard.

Then they asked their question, “Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?” The “tribute,” literally “census money”—that is, poll tax—was paid by every Jew. It was inquisitorial, followed a careful taking of the census, in which every man was obliged to report his family, his property, and his income, and was extremely odious to the Jews, who counted it a badge of their national degradation. Its payment was resisted by some, especially among the Galileans, not only on political, but also on religious grounds.”—Lyman Abbott.

The Pharisees asked their question with malice of forethought. If Jesus said “Yes,” He would bitterly antagonize the people, and if He said “No,” they could accuse Him of treason to the Roman government. And, indeed, two days later they falsely said to Pilate, “We found this man perverting our nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Caesar,” Luke 23:2.

“Shall we give, or shall we not give?” they put the question plainly. Here was their alternative: pay tribute to a foreign power where emperor worship prevailed, or refuse to pay and remain loyal to God. They thought that whatever answer Jesus made, it would condemn Him. Jesus denied there was an alternative; both were aspects of one duty. He would not teach contempt of the established government and disobedience to law. Nor would he teach disloyalty to God.

Jesus well knew their evil intent. He quickly saw through the purpose of their flattering words. “Why make ye trial of Me?” He asked, as He called for a coin, a denarius on which was graven the image and name of Caesar. The coin represented Rome's services to the people governed, as well as Rome's power and authority. “Whose is this image and superscription?” He asked. (A small boy in Australia in telling the story gave it thus: “He asked them to show Him a penny, and when they gave it to Him He said, Whose miserable subscription is this?”) “Caesar's,” they replied. Then said Jesus, “Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's.” Render, give back; the coin came from Caesar, and they owed him something in return. They were accepting the services of Caesar's government; for these services they must render an equivalent.

How Much Water Should Baby Get? A Famous Authority's Rule

By Ruth Brittain

Baby specialists agree nowadays, that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of body weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day; and it is easily calculated for the bottle fed one. Then make up any deficiency with water.

Giving baby sufficient water often relieves his feverish, crying, upset and restless spells. If it doesn't, give him a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. For these and other ills of babies and children such as colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, sour stomach, loss of sleep, underweight, etc., leading physicians say there's nothing so effective. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper—and millions of mothers have depended on it in over thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from his food, so he increases in weight as he should. With each package you get a book on Motherhood worth its weight in gold.

Just a word of caution. Look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the package so you'll be sure to get the genuine. The forty-cent bottles contain thirty-five doses.

CHAPTER XXIV.

It was at Fort Simpson, in November, on his way out, that Jack Doran heard of the war. They had floated down the Nehanni River on a moose-skin barge to the Liard, and down the Liard to the MacKenzie on a spruce scow, arriving in Fort Simpson one raw November day when an icy wind from the North gave warning of the freeze-up. They had brought with them a few furs, which George, the half-breed guide, had got with his trap-lines, and from the sale of these they hoped to be able to buy supplies for the home journey.

Their summer had been full of adventure. They had seen the leaves come on the trees, the flowers bud, bloom and fade, the leaves fall, and now the lowering clouds of November driven by the cold winds; but with their bags full of gold quartz to show what they had found, and their little heap of dust carried in chamois bags and glass phials, they were elated and confident.

Jack, with all the eagerness of the amateur, had been full of enthusiasm going in, and in the washing of gold from the sand of the river he had enjoyed endless delight. To see the glint of yellow gold in the black sands at the bottom of a pan fired his imagination. Keith had complimented him on his success in panning.

"She's gettin' better all the time," Keith had said, "so we are gettin' closer to the deposits." He had a map of the country showing the exact spot where the claims would be staked. "You'll have some nuggets to bring home to that new wife of yours that will make her eyes pop out of her head."

It was in September they reached the place, and Keith announced the object of their search achieved. They asked their claims and gathered some rich pieces of quartz to bring back with them. Keith was exultant, and even George, the half-breed, grew garrulous with the prospect of riches. He was going to have three cars and a colored driver in a gray uniform!

Keith had the plan for mining all arranged. He showed them where the sluices would be placed, drawing a diagram to show the angle at which they would be set and how the riffles would be put in the bottom. He would bring the water in a pipe-line from farther up the river, and throw it against the banks of gravel in powerful jets. At the falls, up the river he would generate the electricity to run a stamp mill, where the crushed rock would be reduced to powder and passed through a sieve, and the gold collected on copper plates. "You'll see a bigger trek to this field than there was in ninety-eight," he assured his eager listeners.

The return journey, lacking the stimulus of novelty which had kept them from discouragement going in was toilsome and depressing. Their way lay through a gloomy, barren country, and the weather was cold and wet. The shortening days and lengthening nights, too, were unfavorable to travelling. But at length, ragged, unkempt, unshaven and dirty, they arrived in Fort Simpson just before the freeze-up.

The good-natured proprietor of the store bought their furs outfitted them, giving them the news of the war as the transactions went on. "I wish I was younger, and I'd be off," he said, "I'd like to do a bit of fightin' before my time comes to step off."

"What is it all about?" Jack asked, as he tried on a pair of long boots.

"Well, I'm not clear on that, but sure it's a poor war that ain't better than no war, and you see war has to come once in a while to clear out the surplus population. We breed too fast—ain't that the truth?—so it's either pestilence, war, or famine, and war's a lot more fun than the other two!"

Jack looked at him indignantly. "How many children have you?" he asked. He had noticed several little half-breeds around the store, moccasined, noiseless, beady-eyed, looking inquiringly at the strangers.

The storekeeper did not resent the question at all. "I think there are six boys big enough to go," he said. Three of them are out on the trap-lines and haven't heard about it yet, but the other three are going out. Their mother is cuttin' up a little, but she'll calm down; she's a good woman. We have eight other comin' on. It's a good chance for the boys to see the world."

The war did not relate itself in any way to Jack Doran until he arrived at Peace River. He had one consuming thought in his mind now, and only one, and that was to get to Eagle Mines as soon as he could, and to Helmi. He went at once to the telegraph office and sent her a wire. "Mrs. Jack Doran, Eagle Mines:—Back safe, expect me in a week. Love, Jack."

Peace River was alive with excitement. Homesteaders walked the streets waiting for the train to take them to Edmonton. There was some delay, owing to trouble on the Judah Hill.

Jack, Keith and George got a room at "The Peace," and soon had the grime of travel washed away, and went to the dining-room for supper. Men in uniform sat at a table, eating noisily and drinking. The room was full of excited talk.

There was a meeting in the hall that night, advertised by a huge red poster in the stores. It said that Major Gowsett and Pts. George Crowe would address the meeting. Pte. Crowe had been wounded at Mons and been invalided to Canada. There were flags in the dining-room, and on the way in that day they had noticed flags flying from the houses and stores, fluttering bravely in the cold wind.

To the hall they went at eight o'clock, and were met at the door by women selling red roses for the Red Cross. A band inside was playing "It's a Long, Long Way to Tipperary." To Jack it seemed as though he had come back to a new world, a nervous, panicky, high-strung world, abounding in new phrases, new emotions. Fresh from the solitudes of the North, he could not at once grasp the meaning of it all.

Pte. Crowe, a pale lad, standing with a crutch, spoke first, and spoke simply and well. His superior officer Exact cup tests carried out in our blending rooms insure for Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea a quality that is absolutely uniform. This supreme tea comes to you at its peak of freshness and flavor because it is packed in aluminum—the only package worthy of its fine quality.

had chided him for the mildness of his address at Spirit River the night before. "You've got to put more thunder into it," he said, "these people want color and action. Tell them about the children you saw with their hands cut off."

"But I didn't see any," protested the lad.

"Well, you heard of them—you might have seen them. Speed up a little—lay it on thicker, or you'll never get recruits."

But again the boy told just what he had seen—the mud—the hardships—the indescribable carnage—the comradeship and heroism of his companions of the trenches. There was no hatred, revenge or bitterness in his heart, only a great bewilderment. He appealed on behalf of his comrades—they were so brave, so cheerful and so fine—so willing to die.

Jack's heart was torn with the pity of it. Worst of all was the boy's twitching hands, never still a moment. What horrors that boy must have come through! His lips had quivered as he spoke, like a child's about to cry. "Don't leave those boys alone; send them reinforcements. The more we can send the sooner it will be over." That was the message of the quivering lips, coming from a heart that was clean and brave. He could talk without apology, could Pte. Crowe, he could ask any person to make a sacrifice and not ask them to do more than he had done.

Major Gowsett, who arranged the program, had left himself for the last. In the ordinary affairs of life Major Gowsett believed in being first, but, understanding what he would have called "mob-psychology," he believed the last speaker had the best chance. He began by damning the Germans with great spirit, reviewing their history, military aspirations, and their home life. He showed that they threatened the whole world. Major Gowsett had not been further than Boulogne during the present war, but one would never know it from his speech. It reeked with the stench of battle, it abounded in personal incidents. He dragged his listeners into shell-holes, dug-outs and across "No Man's Land;" he specialized on the treachery of the Germans—the hatefulness of their women—the bitter hatred they had instilled into their children. He had lived with them, he said, and he knew. It seemed that he and Lord Roberts knew the war was coming, but England had not listened to them.

Speed Up Construction

German Contractors Use Furnace On Wheels To Dry Walls

Homes and apartments are so scarce in Berlin, Germany, that architects and constructors think up every conceivable device for hastening the process.

Their latest quick service help consists of a furnace on wheels which is calculated to hasten the drying process in buildings under construction. It is placed outside the house or apartment building, and furnace pipes are laid from it into the room to be dried. The heat is conducted just as though a hot air furnace were in operation in the basement.

In this way, it is estimated, construction is hastened by many days, as the painters and decorators can get busy much earlier.

Worms are encouraged by morbid conditions of the stomach and bowels, and so subside. Miller's Worm Powders will alter these conditions almost immediately and will sweep the worms away. No destructive parasite can live in contact with this medicine, which is not only a worm destroyer, but a health-giving medicine most beneficial to the young constitution.

Next month another 1,100 head of buffalo will be shipped from the Canadian National Park at Wainwright to the big reserve north of the Peace River. Overstocking of the Wainwright Park renders this necessary.

Minard's Lintment for Toothache.

Teeth and Health

Issued By The Canadian Dental Hygiene Council and Published By The Saskatchewan Dental Society

CHILDHOOD DISEASES AFFECTING TEETH

It occasionally happens that teeth erupt faulty in shape or with the enamel pitted and stained, and you wonder what has caused it.

Now a very probable source of this trouble is a general disturbance from some constitutional disease associated with high temperatures, such as, scarlet fever, measles, or chicken pox.

Occasionally this disturbance is so great as to totally destroy the tooth germ, but more often it merely affects the tooth structure as described above.

But there are two general diseases that, in particular affect tooth structure and tooth eruption.

Of these rickets is a disease of faulty nutrition and it is worthy of note that it is a disease not only of the very poor who are denied proper and sufficient food, but of the rich, who have an abundance of food but of an improper kind.

The characteristic affections of the teeth from rickets are these; the deciduous teeth erupt late and, in the more extreme cases, there is a general deformity of the skull and jaws; moreover, these teeth are lost early, whilst the permanent teeth in turn erupt late; the result is, faulty or mal-occlusion. Moreover, the teeth themselves are structurally affected, being bluish, sparse and somewhat tapering.

The other disease, more or less specifically related to tooth mal-formation is tuberculosis.

A child suffering from tuberculosis will erupt both the deciduous and permanent teeth early; but the root of the deciduous tooth is not absorbed as it should be, with the resultant mal-position of the succeeding permanent teeth.

It is perhaps easier to understand why these diseases should injuriously affect tooth structure as they do, when you remember that the teeth are in the formative stage through early childhood, and hence are readily liable to influences of a disturbing nature.

Asthma Doesn't Wear Off Alone. Do not make the mistake of waiting for asthma to wear away by itself. While you are waiting the disease is surely gathering a stronger foothold and you live in danger of stronger and yet stronger attacks. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy taken early will prevent incipient condition from becoming chronic and saves hours of awful suffering.

Sand and Gravel Pits in Canada

Natural deposits of sands and gravels occur in all provinces of Canada, and as a consequence of this wide distribution, the low value of these materials, and the ubiquitous demand chiefly for filling and structural purposes, there are a very large number of pits operated in Canada.

MOST people know this absolute antidote for pain, but are you careful to say Bayer when you buy it? And do you always give a glance to see Bayer on the box—and the word genuine printed in red? It isn't the genuine Aspirin without it! A drug-store always has Bayer, with the proven directions tucked in every box:

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) indicating Bayer Manufacture. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assure the public against imitations, the Tablets will be stamped with their "Bayer Cross" trade mark.

CUT IT—it doesn't tear easily

There's no denying that the most careful carpenter doesn't handle his tools with the dainty movements of a dentist.

Consequently he will appreciate a building paper which allows him to throw careful handling to the winds and work rapidly without fear of tearing. Hercules Permanent Building Paper is tough. Tearing or cracking in using is unheard of. Carpenters prefer it because it is easy to use.

Hercules—in three grades, x light, xx medium, and xxx heavy, is wind proof and damp proof.

Cut away section of a Gum-Dipped Tire showing one cord untwisted into 15 strands. Every fibre of every strand is insulated with rubber.

Why Gum-Dipping Increases Tire Life

A tire in use is being constantly bent backwards and forwards by road action. Such movement generates friction and heat that has a deteriorating effect unless the tire is built to withstand it.

In the carcass of a Gum-Dipped tire there is less friction to generate heat because Gum-Dipping puts a coating of new live rubber around each separate cord that keeps it from rubbing against the cords that lie next to it. It stays cooler and therefore lasts longer.

A very pleasant evening is reported by those who attended the Father and Son banquet, given by the Tuxis and Trail Rangers' groups in the Oddfellow's Hall on Friday evening of last week. Jack Boorman officiated as chairman, and assisting him in the duties of the evening were Rev. Mr. Hayes of the United Church, and Mr. Gordon Lapp secretary of the Boy's Work Board of Alberta, the latter during the course of the evening giving an excellent address on a subject appropriate to the occasion. The toast of the boys to the fathers was proposed by Frank Moyle, and responded to by Dr. Clarke. A good program of vocal and instrumental music had been arranged and this was supplemented by group games, in which everyone took part. The C.G.I.T. girls excelled in their decoration of the tables, and also in serving at the tables, their work in this respect earning the admiration and hearty thanks of the boys, the latter also expressing their appreciation of the many good things supplied by the mothers.

For Humanity!

The world scroll upon which is inscribed the names of men and women who have rendered distinguished service to the cause of humanity contains no name more worthy of such recognition than that of Henri Dunant, the centenary of whose birth in Geneva, Switzerland, was observed throughout the world on May 8th, of this year, and who lived to the ripe old age of 82 years.

What service did Henri Dunant render to mankind entitling him to this honor?

As a young man of 31 years, Dunant, author and philosopher, was traveling for pleasure in the summer of 1859 in Northern Italy, and happened to arrive in the neighborhood of Solferino just at the conclusion of the battle which is known by that name, and which was waged between the Austrians under Francis Joseph II. and the Allied French and Sardinians. The opposing forces were of about equal strength, the total of men engaged being something over 300,000. The armies met in the early morning and fought a sanguinary conflict until about two o'clock in the afternoon, when the Austrians were forced to retire. For so short a battle the losses were large, totalling in killed, wounded, and missing almost 40,000.

Upon such a scene of carnage came Henri Dunant accidentally in the course of his journey for pleasure. Suffering and dying soldiers left on the field filled the air with their cries and groans, but there was no organized care for them. His deepest sympathies stirred for these fellowmen, who but a few hours before were in the pride of health and strength. Henri Dunant organized the neighboring villagers who did what little they could to cope with the gigantic task of ministering to those whose lives might still be saved.

But Henri Dunant did more. The vivid and terrible scenes he had witnessed so impressed themselves upon his mind that a year or two later he published his experiences in a small volume entitled "Un Souvenir de Solferino" (A Remembrance of Solferino), in which he advocated the formation of voluntary organizations to aid the army authorities in carrying out the national obligation of caring for the sick and wounded in future campaigns.

The result was the organization of the great world-wide Red Cross Society.

In this day and generation, with the events of the Great World War still fresh in mind, it is unnecessary to attempt any review of this international neutral, humanitarian organization. Sufficient it is to say that probably no other organization in the world's history has a finer record of achievement, or so completely commands the confidence and support of all peoples. The Red Cross flag and insignia is known and respected everywhere as a sign of absolute neutrality among warring nations, and the highest standard of self-sacrificing service to all suffering humanity.

Originated for service to the sick and wounded of armies in time of war, its amazingly efficient organization and outstanding service during the Great War so impressed the statesmen of the world confronted with all the difficulties of after-the-war reconstruction of a well-nigh bankrupt civilization, that the Peace Conference at Versailles unanimously called upon the Red Cross throughout the world to remain organized and active, and undertake a comprehensive peace-time work among the civilian populations.

To the Red Cross, therefore, the creation of Henri Dunant, was accorded the distinction of being the only organization, apart from Governments, recognized in the Covenant of the League of Nations, with the solemn obligation imposed on all nations joining the League to encourage and promote the organization of voluntary national Red Cross Societies, having for their object "the promotion of health, the prevention of disease, and the mitigation of suffering throughout the world."

Today throughout the world, the Red Cross with its tens of millions of members, including all races, languages and creeds, is engaged in its mission of mercy. When Nature in a violent mood brings disaster upon a small community, or a Province, or a whole nation, the Red Cross is the first on the spot. Should an epidemic of disease break out, the Red Cross nurse and voluntary worker, inspired by the heroism and humanitarian ideals of Dunant and Florence Nightingale, are active in the alleviation of suffering. Unceasing, too, is the Red Cross educational campaign in the promotion of health and the prevention of disease. And should war again inflict mankind, the Red Cross will be found better organized and stronger than ever to assume the burden thus imposed upon it.

In the galaxy of the world's great humanitarians, Pasteur, Jenner, Lister, Florence Nightingale, William Booth, Curie, and others, the name of Henri Dunant shines brightly, while the sympathy which prompted his action on the bloody field of Solferino, and the inspiration, leading to his conception of a great neutral volunteer organization in the cause of suffering humanity, continues to call forth the most splendid self-denial and service under the banner of the Red Cross.

When Food Sours

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient, and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS THE HOME DOCTOR

Baby's Own Tablets meet all the need that exists in every home where there are young children. They are a laxative, but do not gripe. They are soothing, but do not contain one particle of opiate or other ingredient that can in any way do the slightest harm to the most delicate child.

Baby's Own Tablets reduce fever, relieve colic, banish constipation and indigestion, check diarrhoea, sweeten the stomach and allay the irritation that accompanies the cutting of teeth. They quiet the nerves and promote health-giving sleep and repose. In fact they are as good as a doctor in the home, and once a mother has used them for her little ones she will use nothing else. Thousands of mothers bear testimony as to this. Among them is Mrs. Hurst, Pine Falls, Man., who writes:—"I was told to try Baby's Own Tablets by a friend who had used them for all her little ones and said she could not do without them. After using them for my baby boy I quite agree with her and certainly think they are the finest medicine in the world for little ones."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Faces Carved On Building

Likenesses Of Men Prominent In Chemical World Appear On New Structure

Faces of living men are carved in stone on the new million-pound building of the Imperial Chemical Industries nearing completion at Westminster Exchange.

One of the faces is that of the head of the concern, Sir Alfred Mond. All the other carvings are said to be excellent likenesses of many men prominent in the chemical world.

The sculpture around the building also includes figures of peacocks, which are said to be there as a symbol of incorruptibility, following the ancient tradition that the flesh of the peacock is incorruptible.

Nation-Wide Fame. — There is scarcely a corner of this great Dominion where the merits of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil have not been tried and proved. Rubbed on the skin its healing power is readily absorbed, and it can also be taken internally.

Film Industry In Calgary

Production of the first of a series of British films for use under Great Britain's quota law will be started in Calgary this month, May 1. Local capitalists, including P. Burns and A. E. Cross, are backing the project. Neal Hart will be the director of the first picture, which will be western in its flavor.

Buying Registered Seed

Saskatchewan Farmers Have Purchased Much More This Year

The Saskatchewan Registered Seed Association advises that farmers throughout the province have purchased more registered seed this year than in any year in the past and that they are becoming more interested in good seed. There has been a heavy movement of tractors from United States points to points in Saskatchewan this spring and the sale of motor trucks has greatly increased. Evidently farmers are becoming more and more interested in mechanical power.

Appointment Is Popular

New Inspector Of Taxation In Saskatchewan Has Had Wide Experience

Hon. George Scott is to be congratulated upon his appointment as Inspector of Taxation in Saskatchewan. This is an exacting position, but Mr. Scott has many qualifications which would seem to assure that he will measure up to its demands. The new appointee has had wide experience in educational life, in business life, in agricultural life, and in public life. All this will be helpful to him in his new post.

Hon. Mr. Scott will be missed in the Legislative Assembly, where as member for Arm River he rendered conscientious and able service not only in behalf of his constituency but also in behalf of the Province as a whole. Whether as Speaker of the House, or as a private member, he consistently enjoyed the respect and regard of members of all political groups.—Regina Leader.

FIREPROOF Farm Construction

GYPROC Fireproof Wallboard is used in the building of elaborate country homes equally as much as for garages, grain bins, poultry houses and barns. For repairs and alterations—for remodelling—for partitioning off extra rooms—it is the most economical and satisfactory wallboard on the market.

Gypoc protects from cold, heat, fire, sound and vermin—yet costs less than materials which do none of these things. Quick and easy to apply. It can neither crack, warp, bulge or shrink. By filling the joints with Gypoc Joint Filler you get a smooth, flat, air-tight surface through which fire, heat, cold and sound cannot penetrate.

CLASH BETWEEN JAP TROOPS AND NATIONALISTS

Shanghai.—The Japanese 23th brigade under General Sotoyama, bore the brunt of fighting between the Japanese and Nationalists forces.

General Sotoyama's brigade came into contact with a force of southerners at Kotien, about 15 miles east of Tsinan, and disarmed many of them after stubborn resistance.

When Sotoyama's forces were returning to Tsinan they encountered a powerful force under General Chen Tiao Yuan. Fighting was last reported still in progress with the result unknown.

Chen Tiao Yuan was formerly governor of the province of Anhwei and commanded the three nationalist armies which succeeded in cutting the Shantung railway April 30 at Ningshui.

The Japanese were continuing today their attempts to disarm the nationalists as rapidly as they came in contact with them in the entire Tsinan area. The Mikado's forces had occupied the bridge across the Yellow River at Tsinan and other strategic points.

With the exception of the two encounters with Sotoyama's forces most of the fighting was of a minor nature.

Looking For New President

University Of Alberta Will Seek Strong Man To Fill Vacant Position

Edmonton.—Hon. Perren Baker, minister of education, will leave shortly for points east, on a tour of investigation that will have as its objective the location of likely appointees to the vacant presidency of the University of Alberta.

He will go right across the Dominion, to the Maritime provinces, and may also cross the line into the Eastern and middle states.

It has not even been decided yet that the new university president is to be a Canadian, but other things being equal, the preference will naturally be given to a man Canadian-born or at least Canadian experienced.

Made Chancellor Of Oxford University

Viscount Grey Of Falloden Elected By Acclamation

London.—Viscount Grey, of Falloden, former Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, will be elected by acclamation to the chancellorship of the University of Oxford in succession to the late Viscount Cave. Apart from the gracious gesture to Viscount Grey the decision to elect him without a contest is generally regarded as an indication of the university authorities' desire to separate the chancellorship from its association with politics.

Viscount Grey was foreign secretary from 1905 to 1916.

Arrives In Big Plane

Ottawa.—Captain Alfred Loewenstein, Belgian multi-millionaire, arrived at Lindbergh Field here in his tri-motored monoplane, the largest machine Ottawa has ever seen. Captain Loewenstein and Mrs. Loewenstein were the guests of Premier Mackenzie King at dinner, at Laurier House. He declared emphatically that his visit to the capital was merely a social call.

Italian Naval Program

Rome.—A new Italian naval building programme was announced by Under-Secretary Siranni in the senate recently. Siranni said the new programme complements preceding ones and provides for the construction of two 10,000-ton cruisers, four destroyers, and four submarines, for which contracts will be let this month.

Man Power Plane

New York.—A model aeroplane, the motive power of which is obtained by hand as a boat is rowed, has been demonstrated by Lehman Well, who now plans to construct a man-sized machine on the same theory. The model in test rapidly took the air.

Would Follow British Plan

United Farmers Of Canada Have Scheme For Co-Operative Stores

Winnipeg.—An elaborate scheme for the organization of co-operative societies on the British model is now being drawn up by the United Farmers of Canada, according to W. M. Thrasher, secretary of the Saskatchewan section of that body. It is hoped to lay the foundation of a system of stores which will ultimately extend all over the West.

The central body in Canada will, it is understood, have the hearty co-operation of the great British Wholesale Co-operative in Manchester, which serves millions of customers in hundreds of stores all over the United Kingdom.

Share capital in small units, Mr. Thrasher stated, will be subscribed to start stores, and safeguards will be erected to prevent any one shareholder from becoming predominant. Though called share capital, the stock to be issued will virtually be debentures in nature, since it will receive only a fixed return on the investment.

May Consult League

Possibility Of China and Japan Submitting Dispute To Geneva

Geneva.—A protest from China to the League of Nations over Japanese military action in Shantung is a possibility, Cheng Loh, Chinese member of the League Council, said to the Associated Press correspondent. He adds he was awaiting instruction from his government at Peking.

Cheng Loh, who is now in Paris, but is coming to Geneva for the meeting of the council in June, said over the telephone that both Northerners and Southerners have the same view concerning the attitude of the Japanese in Shantung. He thought it conceivable that both factions might unite in deciding to submit the dispute to the League of Nations.

Japan's attitude on the question of referring to the League of Nations the dispute is unknown here. The Chinese-Japanese conflict is regarded in Geneva as cutting straight across the Kellogg outlawry of war proposal.

New Road To Coast

Project Roads For Northern British Columbia Country

Victoria, B.C.—A new railway route pass through the mountains from the coast to the Peace River and northern British Columbia country was announced by H. M. Rolston, editor of the Portland Canal News who was here on his way north to Stewart.

"The new pass which has just been located for getting over the Naas and Skeena watersheds to the Finlay basin, is 3,500 feet lower than the original pass mapped under Sir Donald Mann," Mr. Rolston said.

"It will mean a much easier railway route to the coast."

Would Have U.S. Mediate

Suggestion Made That Action Be Taken To Prevent War Between Japan and China

Geneva.—The peace purposes of the League of Nations will be served if Washington should wave a magic wand and prevent war between Japan and China, said a league authority discussing the possibilities of friendly mediation either by the United States Government or by the league.

Geneva circles appear confident that some soothing influence will be exercised to prevent the Chinese-Japanese conflict from growing worse. The league is ready to act if asked.

Passports Required For Short Vacation

Week-End Tickets To Europe Cost Britishers $10.00 Extra

London.—The British Easter holiday crowd of "trippers" to the Continent was thrown into consternation by being required to pay $10 extra for their annual spring outing abroad—for the first time since the war passports were required.

Since 1919 a special facility had been in force under which persons were allowed to buy week-end tickets to certain French and Belgian ports, available from Friday to Tuesday, which allowed the holders to travel without a passport. Henceforth passports will be required.

Persons who enquired at the French consulate-general in London, learned that the British authorities had never consented to grant a reciprocal advantage to French and Belgian nationals, and the French Government now intended to make the abuse of this facility by one individual an occasion for withdrawing it altogether.

Says Alberta Bill Is Given Support

Hon. C. A. Dunning Has Every Hope That It Will Pass

Edmonton.—Hon. Charles Dunning, Federal Minister of Railways, telegraphed Premier Brownlee in reply to the latter's request for co-operation in getting the Northern Railways extension through the house that he has every hope of the bill passing. The Government has done everything possible, he says, to facilitate it and extra time has been given private bills after the House had unanimously agreed that Government business should take precedence. Mr. Dunning adds that talking-out tactics on private bills have become very prevalent during the present session.

British Boys Study Agriculture

The above shows a splendid group of British Public and Secondary school students who have just arrived at the Macdonald Agricultural College.

Recruited by the Department of Colonization and Development of the Canadian Pacific Railway, these young men will pursue a two years' course at the College. During the summer months they will work on farms where places have been selected for them. On completion of their studies they will engage in various branches of Canadian agricultural operations, by which they will be accustomed to Canadian methods.

The scheme under which these students were brought to Canada has now entered upon its fourth year of operation and the College authorities are thoroughly satisfied with the soundness of the plan. At the extreme left of the picture is Dr. H. Barton, Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture, Macdonald College, and at the extreme right is Mr. L. H. Hamilton, Instructor in Agriculture, who is especially charged with the supervision of the students under this particular scheme.

New Money For Ireland

London Mint Is Striking Coins For Free State

Dublin, Ireland.—A few months hence the people of the Irish Free State will begin to handle new coins intended to displace British coins in local circulation. The contract for minting was given to the London Mint, which has submitted Dublin the first striking and now will proceed with production, beginning with silver coins.

The new coins will be of the same value as British coins up to half-crowns, and no higher denomination will be coined at present. Provision has been made for a proportion of silver higher than that in British coins, in order to counteract any possible suspicion of the new coinage. The sixpence and the threepenny piece will be of nickel, the new threepenny piece being of the size of the British silver sixpence, but without any milling. Bronze coins also are being struck, but it will take a little longer to substitute these for the corresponding British coins.

Urge Acceptance Of Canadian Currency

Washington Asked To Sanction Its Use In U.S. Centres

Ottawa.—The Journal in an editorial says:

"Due to a letter addressed by A. H. Jarvis, of Ottawa, to the United States consul-general here, steps have been taken by the State Department at Washington, which may result in the future acceptance of Canadian currency at all centres across the line.

"Hesitation on this score on the part of Americans in many districts has long been a source of inconvenience and annoyance to Canadian visitors to the U.S. Although we are Uncle Sam's best customer and despite the fact that the American dollar is accepted without question over here, there are many places and business houses and hotels across the border where the Canadian dollar is no more regarded than if it were the paper of Soviet Russia."

British Bankers Worried

Over Flood Of American Capital Which Is Entering Canada

London, Ont.—Grave fears are entertained by British bankers concerning the flood of American money which is entering Canada, according to Major Hume Cronyn, London financier, who has just returned from a trip to England and the Riviera.

"It is impossible for us to secure money in England for anything like the rates at which we can secure it here," said Major Cronyn. "This is due largely to the interest of the U.S. in Canadian securities. The result is that British capital is naturally prevented from coming in to any great extent and the fear is felt in Britain that the new alignment of money power in Canada will have a bearing on the future relations of the Empire. I heard this referred to in England as a menace."

SASKATCHEWAN OLD AGE PENSION PLAN OPERATIVE

Ottawa.—Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, signed on behalf of the Dominion Government the agreement with the Province of Saskatchewan for old age pensions.

The cabinet had passed orders-in-council authorizing Mr. Heenan to sign the agreement and endorsing the plan of administration proposed by the province.

The agreement was signed on behalf of the province by Hon. C. M. Hamilton, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, under whose jurisdiction the pensions scheme will be operated by the Child Protection Bureau.

The signing by Mr. Heenan was witnessed by Premier King and a number of his colleagues from Saskatchewan.

British Columbia has been paying old age pensions since last September and had disbursed about $260,000 to the end of March, the Federal Government having re-imbursed the province for half this amount.

Saskatchewan will be the second province to actually begin old age pension payments.

Manitoba has passed the necessary legislation to take advantage of the Dominion Act, and it is more than likely that payments will begin there some time during the summer.

It is expected that an agreement with the Yukon will be made very soon.

Plan Meets Opposition

British House Discusses Cold Storage For Imported Meat

London.—Speaking for the government in the House of Lords, Lord Stradbroke, minister of agriculture, promised most carefully to consider a suggestion that all refrigerated meat imported into Great Britain from countries where the foot and mouth disease is prevalent should be placed in cold storage at the port of landing for three weeks.

Lord Kysant, in opposing the suggestion, pointed out that 2,048,000 tons of meat were consumed in Britain in 1927, of which 925,000 tons were imported chilled beef of a quality almost equal to the best home-killed beef. In order to secure imported meat in a satisfactory condition, however, it should be available in Britain within 21 days after being shipped.

If chilled meat had to go into cold storage for three weeks on arrival, he said, its value would be considerably reduced as it would have to be frozen. The result would be that the importation of chilled meat would cease and nearly half the people of Great Britain would have to consume frozen meat of an inferior quality and pay a higher price for it than they did at present.

To Speed Mail Delivery

Cunard Steamship Line May Use Airplanes For This Purpose

Montreal.—To further speed up delivery of mail from the British Isles for Canada, it is understood that the Cunard Line in Liverpool have been considering a scheme whereby their ships to the St. Lawrence will each carry an aeroplane to be released when the Gulf of St. Lawrence is reached, the plane to take important mail either to Rimouski or to Quebec.

Officials here state they know nothing definite of the scheme yet, but say that is quite feasible, as it is occasionally being carried out by ships on the New York service.

At present there is complete air mail chain from Rimouski to Toronto, operated by the postal department.

Amend Criminal Code

Ottawa.—The senate rejected the House of Commons bill amending section 98 of the criminal code by a vote of 32 to 22. This section makes it unlawful for any person or association to advocate the employment of force to bring about changes in the governmental, industrial or economic conditions of the country, and gives certain powers to public officers to deal with violations of the act.

Church Announcements

Evangelical Notes

Didsbury Evangelical Church is to be favored on June 3rd with a visit by Bishop J. S. Stamm, D.D., of Kansas City. Bishop Stamm is the youngest of the bishops of the Evangelical Church in America and therefore he appeals very strongly to the middle-aged and young people but the older folk also hear him gladly. Remember the date.

Since the recent annual business meeting of the Didsbury congregation, the pastor has had the thrill of issuing a $1075.00 money order for Missions.
This is only part of the total received by freewill offerings during this past conference year and this fact needs no comment to indicate the Missionary spirit that prevails in the congregation.

20,000,000.

Over eight months have passed since the commencement of the crop year on September 1, 1927, and ninety per cent. of the crop has been delivered. The great bulk of non-Pool wheat has left the growers' hands.

Except for those who have not had their grain threshed owing to weather conditions, and the few who held their grain since last harvest, the non-Pool farmers have little concern in the present higher prices for wheat. The "Average closing prices" ever on the lips of the Grain Trade should really be figured during the time the bulk is going on the market. That is, from September to April. With very little wheat in non-Pool farmers' hands how can they be benefited by high prices from now on.

Wheat Pool members, on the other hand, have a vital interest in present prices. They have seen their Pool start the crop year under a burden of tremendous wheat supplies, and a handicap of a cloud of "bearish" news. Last fall grain poured in rivers into Winnipeg, and Vancouver's facilities were taxed to the limit. Argentina had raised a tremendous crop. Europe's production was up by millions of bushels. The United States' wheat crop was heavy and altogether things did not look any too rosy.

The Canadian Pool had a difficult task on hand and Pool members may have a good excuse for a feeling at the successful manner in which a grave situation was handled by the organization they had created. Pool members are now in a position to participate to an appreciable extent in the rising market prices.

If there was no Wheat Pool in Western Canada what would the situation have been? The bulk of the wheat would be out of the farmers' hands and in the hands of the market intermediaries who would reap a very rich profit indeed. The Wheat Pool has changed this situation in a decided fashion. Now Pool members can sit back unworried and feel assured they will get the best year's average price for the product of their labors.

NO ONE IS GOING TO EXTRACT EXTRAVAGANT PROFITS FROM POOL WHEAT.

FARMERS SHOULD REALIZE that only by the Power to function efficiently. This volume is assured by
